Dear Friends at the Aga Khan Foundation,

The value of a meaningful philanthropic partnership begins with a shared vision. Connecting with organizations who share a commitment to promoting global good is one of Highgate's top priorities.

One of the many reasons why the Aga Khan Foundation (AKF) aligns with the Highgate Charitable Foundation's (HCF) fundamental values is that together, we share the strong desire to spark innovative solutions for the world's toughest challenges.

We congratulate you for the incredible impact that AKF programs have achieved over the years, including tripling the literacy rate in northern Pakistan, improved quality of learning for more than 500,000 children in Kenya, and robust civil society participation in fragile environments like Afghanistan.

HCF is proud to partner with you to support vital initiatives including improving agricultural practices in Kyrgyz Republic, bringing water and electricity to remote communities in Tajikistan, and ensuring access to toilets and improved sanitation in India.

We hope that others will join the AKF and the HCF through collective investment, influence and expertise in ensuring that meaningful change lasts for generations.

With much appreciation,

Mahmood Khimji
